Health Checks Deliver Immediate Benefits

Project failure rates are at a 10 year high indicating there is a substantial gap between expectations and reality. The cost of failed projects is more than just wasted resources and lost opportunity. Failed initiatives create resistance to change and cause cynicism to become endemic. Credibility and reputation can be destroyed.

Challenged projects always lead to significant business problems...

Project health checks are the most powerful measure available to business leaders and project managers to ensure project success.

Health checks deliver immediate benefits:

- » Efficient, cost effective and available for projects of all sizes and disciplines
- » Improved rigour and peace of mind via an objective snapshot
- » Early troubleshooting, risk management and improvement planning
- » Increased stakeholder confidence and value
- » Accelerated development of organisational change capabilities through eliciting “lessons learned” and success criteria for future projects
- » Training and capability gaps pinpointed, enabling targeted skills development
- » Post-implementation and change management requirements, identified maximising organisational benefit

Project Management Specialist

PM-Partners group has helped organisations achieve better business outcomes for 15 years, across all industries and company profiles.

This industry-leading experience was the foundation for the development of our Project Health Checks, enabling us to benchmark best-practice business techniques and to structure the real-world management criteria against which projects are evaluated.

Web-based Health Checks

Powerful insights in half the time and at half the cost

PM-Partners group Health Checks leverage technology, best practice and 15 years of industry knowledge to deliver one of the most powerful project health checks available.

Our web-based solution provides low-cost assurance services at a pace that simply can't be achieved through traditional methods. Earlier detection and insight results in increased project success rates and return on investment.

Our health check methodology integrates 360 degree style feedback. Selected project managers, stakeholders, customers and team members are able to provide their perspective on the status of the project. Comprehensive viewpoints ensure the insights generated are robust.

PM-Partners group has developed a unique standard of 'people and process' criteria against which projects are assessed. We call it the 'art' and 'science' of project management. These crucial capabilities draw on global best practice and have been compiled utilising PM-Partners' extensive experience across project environments in all industries and enterprise areas. Clearly defined criteria ensures the assessment process is easy to replicate and increases objectivity.

In addition to planning intervention on current projects, this low cost assurance vehicle can be used to:

- » Traverse an entire project portfolio to identify challenged projects
- » Focus efforts to improve standards across the portfolio
- » Reduce costs of project assurance
- » Proactively measure stakeholder satisfaction
- » Enable small and medium size projects to cost-effectively undergo assurance processes
- » Provide sponsors with a fast and accurate review of how their investment is performing.

PM-Pulse™ Assessment Portal

Speed | Accuracy | Consistency

PM-Partners group Health Checks are conducted via PM-Pulse™, our online assessment portal. Access to PM-Pulse™ brings efficiency, rigour and intelligence to the health check process.

Data collection is completed in half the time of traditional methods enabling resources to be focused on value-creating analysis and planning.

Productivity and project impact of the health check is minimised as people are only asked questions relevant to them and are able to complete the process at any time of day.

Baseline data is available within days, reducing reporting timelines by up to 40%.

Data analysis occurs within the system, reducing the opportunity for bias or inconsistency and ensuring the analysis process is replicable.

Early diagnosis is made possible through exception analysis of the data which quickly identifies problems. In-depth interviews are then used to elicit solutions.

Benchmarking data is built into the system to assist with insightful analysis.

Expert conclusions and recommendations are provided by an experienced project management consultant and validated with targeted interviews.

Comprehensive Reporting

The results from each health check are analysed in the context of organisational requirements, best practice and pragmatic application. Each report covers four key areas of insight.

10 Knowledge Areas

Technical competence is assessed against ten knowledge areas. These areas have been aligned with internationally accepted standards of Best Practice and refined based on PM-Partners group's experience in applying the standards in real project environments. The result is a comprehensive suite of Statement Modules which apply across all industries and enterprise areas. The 10 knowledge areas are:

- » Communications
- » Cost
- » Human Resources
- » Integration
- » Procurement
- » Project management processes
- » Quality
- » Risk
- » Schedule
- » Scope

10 Project Success Drivers

There are 10 widely recognised and validated drivers of project success. PM-Partners group provides an overall snapshot of the health of your project based on those drivers. Immediately, strengths and weaknesses are evident and solutions can be elicited through in-depth interviews. Drivers include:

- » Active mitigation of key person risk
- » Clarity of direction on benefits
- » Consistency of priorities, role and task clarity
- » Planning balanced with action, decision-making balanced with analysis
- » Tailored application of methodology and tools
- » Verified and validated business requirements.

360° View on Project Health

Using a very simple "traffic light" system, clients gain rapid insight into the health of projects across the 10 knowledge areas as viewed by the four key stakeholder groups; project managers, sponsors, customers and team members. Contrasting perspectives between stakeholder groups are easily identified and therefore can be efficiently managed.

Lessons Learned and Recommendations

Every health check is analysed by a PM-Partners group Senior Project Management Consultant. The structure and accuracy of the baseline data enables our specialists to quickly review the outcomes, validate findings with targeted interviews and draw precise conclusions and recommendations.
